

Be a Badge Boss

Professional women, meet Girl Scouts: The Badge Boss program is the perfect place for a few good women (and men) to help Girl Scouts earn badges. As a Badge Boss volunteer, you'll utilize your expertise to help Girl Scouts learn and gain some skills and interest in the field you love so much.

Here's how it works: You're the Boss—you design how you'll deliver the program content! You choose the badge (from literally dozens of topics!) and when and how you can meet the girls (most are online these days!). We'll match your skills to the badge and find a troop. For your meeting, we'll provide a description of the badge, the five steps required for earning it, and what the girls will know once they completed the steps.

Contact us today and we will get you started on helping build tomorrow's leaders. Find out more at www.gssem.org/badgeboss or call Karen Chappell at 313-870-2538.
