Ways to Say Thank You! (at the troop, service unit, and community levels)

Recognize Volunteer Contributions
People volunteer for countless reasons, but underneath it all, most volunteers are motivated by the quality of their performance. When volunteers know their time and energy are appreciated and that they're valued by Girl Scouts, they commit themselves to the organization. Volunteers also want to know that their service is helping the greater good—that together we made a difference in girls’ lives and, through our mission, made a difference in the world. Therefore, volunteer recognition is one of the most powerful tools for retaining the invaluable women and men who volunteer for Girl Scouts.

The key to successfully recognizing volunteers is:
• Do it well
• Do it often
• Make it meaningful

An attitude of appreciation can be created by:
1. Being aware of the extra effort put forth by an individual
2. Taking the time to mention a person's service or to thank her/him for a job well done
3. Helping people to attain a higher level of achievement
4. Developing a climate wherein work is sincerely noted at all levels

When and how the recipient is recognized can make the expression of gratitude memorable. Recognitions might be made on special Girl Scout holidays, at Service Unit or Community meetings, at a special recognition event, immediately following the service rendered, at local recognition events, etc.

Informal Recognitions - Given by the troop/group/service unit or community
Some ways to say "Thank You" informally at the local service Unit/community level, or by committees or task groups could include:

• A framed photograph of the Girl Scouts who participated in a particular project or event (can be a blown-up snapshot)
• A thank-you statement published in a Girl Scout publication, web site, Yahoo group newsletter, or community paper
• Flowers presented at a meeting
• Birthday or holiday greetings made by the girls
• A special citation read at a meeting
• Fun awards such as breath mints (you take my breath away), note cards (for noteworthy achievements), or batteries (you’ve added energy to our group)

This role was piloted in four service-delivery teams where, after the first year, Journey sales increased by 30 percent; girls shared the impact of 14 new take-action projects via the council's website; and the volunteer-satisfactions scores increased by 12 percent.
